DAVIS SEEMS IN LEAD

Loudoun County Man Overcomes Ellyson's Early Lead and Forges Far to Front.

Richmond, Aug. 8.—With returns far from complete, the Davis camp at 1:30 o'clock this morning was confidently claiming victory. The following statement was forthcoming at that hour:

"There is every indication that Mr. Davis has carried the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Seventh and Eighth Congressional Districts. His plurality will increase as the returns come in from the missing counties and cities."

At Ellyson's headquarters, at the same hour, it was said that the returns were too incomplete to form a basis for any forecast, and no prediction was made. "No statement can be made until we have more complete information from the Fifth, Sixth, Ninth and Tenth Districts," it was said.

Pollard's headquarters were closed when an effort was made to obtain a statement.

Unless unreported returns from yesterday's primary election entirely upset all indications, Westmoreland Davis, of Loudoun County, has been nominated by the Democrats of Virginia for Governor by a plurality over Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellyson of not less than 5,000, with a probability that it may reach 7,000. Attorney-General John Garland Pollard is far behind the leaders.

To all appearances, State Senator John R. Saunders, of Middlesex, has been nominated for Attorney-General over Hugh A. White, of Rockbridge, by a safe majority. One of the surprises lies in the probable defeat of Superintendent of Public Instruction R. C. Stearnes, of Roanoke County, by Harris Hart, Superintendent of Schools of Roanoke City. B. O. James, of Richmond, has been renominated Secretary of the Commonwealth by an overwhelming majority over Major Phil F. Brown, of Botetourt.

A small vote was cast, and it probably will not exceed 70,000, as against about 100,000 in the senatorial primary of 1911.

Returns last night were from practically every section of the State, although the complete vote from any one general section was not available. It will probably be late this afternoon or tonight before complete figures can be secured, but there seems to be little doubt that the Loudoun County candidate ran far ahead of the gubernatorial field. More than two-thirds of the counties, and a fairly complete report of the cities had been made early this morning.

Kerensky's Broken Health.

Petrograd, Aug. 8.—Anxiety over the health of Premier Kerensky was renewed today when it was learned during a recent speechmaking tour of the front that every speech was followed by a period of faintness. His friends say that only his tremendous will power and nervous energy have kept him going so long.

Those who have seen the brilliant Russian leader in the last few weeks describe his face as being haggard and drawn, his features emaciated, his voice still strong and vibrant, but speech marred by frequent coughing, and his eyes brilliant, but not with the brilliancy of ruddy health.

The premier's whole appearance unmistakably shows the effect of the enormous work required of him every twenty-four hours and the heavy responsibility and constant drain on his slender physical resources.

"If Krensky can only hold out" in the phrase more and more frequently heard among his friends and admirers, indicating their dread of his physical collapse and what that would mean to the destinies of free Russia.

Cup for Lusitania Fiend

Pittsburgh, Aug. 8.—Solicitation of funds with which to purchase a silver loving cup to be presented to the commander of the submarine that sank the Lusitana and sent 115 Americans—men, women and little children—to their death, was one of the enemy activities of Otto P Post, of No. 402 South Lang avenue, who was ordered interned here, according to Government officials.

RESULT IN THIS CITY

Davis Leads in Both Alexandria City and County—Only 857 Ballots Cast in City

A stranger would not have known that an election primary was being held in Alexandria yesterday, so quietly was the voting carried on, and the fact that only 857 ballots were cast for the three gubernatorial candidates shows how little interest was taken in the matter by the people of the city. General Apathy was, apparently, in full command of all the forces, as the vote was fully 600 less than the real voting strength in the city. As the figures given below will indicate, Westmoreland Davis led both of his opponents, J. Taylor Ellyson and John Garland Pollard, for the nomination for governor, in both city and county.

Throughout the day the voting was marked by only the most friendly rivalry between the friends of the various candidates.

The result in the four wards of Alexandria city were as follows:

First—For governor, Davis, 123; Ellyson, 45; Pollard, 36. Attorney General—John R. Saunders, 109; Hugh A. White, 66. Secretary of the Commonwealth—B. O. James, 121; Phil F. Brown, 48. Superintendent of public instruction—R. C. Stearnes, 107; Harris Hart, 71.

Second—Davis, 136; Ellyson, 50; Pollard; 21; Saunders, 102; White, 70; James, 105; Brown, 60; Stearnes, 98; Hart, 68.

Third—Davis, 127; Ellyson, 62; Pollard, 41; Saunders, 104; White, 89; James, 133; Brown, 63; Stearnes, 94; Hart, 101.

Fourth—Davis, 152; Ellyson, 44; Pollard, 20; Saunders, 87; White, 103; James, 115; Brown, 76; Stearnes, 129; Hart, 61.

In Alexandria County.

Mr. Davis also carried Alexandria County with Pollard second and Ellyson third. The vote was Davis, 194; Pollard, 133; and Ellyson, 106.

The vote by districts follows: Jefferson—Davis, 68; Ellyson, 7; Pollard, 13; Saunders, 37; White, 41; James 59; Brown, 21; Stearnes, 64; Hart, 22.

Washington—Davis, 46; Ellyson, 19; Pollard, 47.

Arlington—Davis, 80; Ellyson, 80; Pollard, 73.

In Gum Springs, Fairfax County, Davis got 9; Ellyson, 10.

The total vote of other candidates in the city was Saunders, 403; White, 328; James, 474; Brown, 247; Stearnes, 428; Hart, 301.

DRAFT MAD, HURLS WIFE

Woman Says Drafted Husband Threw Her out of Window.

Boston, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Mary A. Sullivan fainted in the Roxbury Court yesterday, just before her husband, Peter Sullivan, was arraigned on a charge of throwing her from a window after she had notified him he had been drafted.

In consequence the assault charge against the husband was continued until August 14, after he had pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Sullivan was removed to the City Hospital.

The police charge that Sullivan, who is 22, threatened to poison his wife after she had read his name in a newspaper as having been drawn for the national army. Then, changing his mind, he knocked her down and threw her out on a piazza.

In Memoriam

In sad but loving remebrance of our dear son, Hubert H. Hoy, who died nine years ago today, Aug. 9, 1908.

He sleeps, but was so young and fair;
He slumbers sweet and knows no care;
His heart was pure, his life so young
Yet not our will but God's be done.

By his Mother and Father.

It is said the proposition is connected with the employment of workmen in the vicinity of Alexandria and it is hoped that it may prove of much advantage to the city.

The third of the series of entertainments at the Westminster building for the soldiers of the camps near this city will be given Friday evening next. These entertainments are very interesting, both as to the excellent programs rendered and the cordiality and hospitality shown the large number of soldiers who attend. Next Friday Colonel McCloskey, commanding the regiment encamped at St. Asaph, will be present and speak as the representative of the military in this vicinity.

CHARGED WITH KILLING CAT.

Colored Man Decapitated Feline With a Cleaver.

There were two cases on the docket of the Police Court this morning. Nathan Truatt, colored, had been cited to appear and answer the charge of cruelty to animals. It was alleged by Sergeant Scott, who brough the case before the court, that Truatt had seized the cat by the four legs and cut off its head with a cleaver. The cat, it was stated, had annoyed him by leaping upon a table. Truatt acknowledged killing the cat in the manner described by the sergeant but said the decapitation was conducted in a yard and that the animal belonged to him. He also alleged that the feline had been sick. Justice Caton dismissed the accused, and said there was nothing to show that Truatt had been cruel to the animal—that is he had not tortured it in any way, but killed it instantly.

"Sonny" Barber colored, was charged with assaulting Charles Williams. The alleged assault took place in a house which is not occupied by either party, and it was determined to continue the case for ten days in order that the police may satisfy themselves that nothing had been stolen from the place.

Open Air Service.

Another open air service willl be held at Windmill Hill this evening at seven o'clock. Evangelist F. E. NEARLY DROWNED BY HOSE.

Boy Held Nozzle in His Mouth When Sister Turned Water on.

Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 8.—Charles, Jr., the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoner, came very near demonstrating that it is possible to drown on dry land, with no stream, pond, well, rain barrel, or bath tub anywhere near.

Monday afternoon the little boy and his small sister, Alberta, were sprinkling, or about to sprinkle, the lawn. Charles was at the nozzle and and Alberta went back to the spigot to turn the water on. Meantime, Charles put the end of the nozzle into his mouth to "play smoking." As he did so the water came rushing through the hose line and with such force that it ran down his throat, into his windpipe and filled his lungs. He fell over to the ground in paroxysms and lost consciousness.

His father being near by rushed to the boy and, turning him head downwards, shook him vigorously By and by the water ran out of the little fellow's lungs, respiration came back and he revived.

At the Picture Houses Tonight.

Clara Kimball Young in "The Rise of Susan," at the Richomnd tonight is not only beautiful in every respect, but displays the most exquisite up-to-the-minute gowns yet seen on the screen. The rich, modern house settings and the interesting turn of this pretty romance is bound to please everyone. It is a story without a blush—clean, wholesome and entertaining.

An unusual theme, carried forward with gripping interest and flecked with continual surprises to the very end, forms the basis of the Bluebird Photoplay to be the attraction at the Richmond Theatre tonight with J. Warren Kerrigan and Louise Lovely heading a company of careful selection. "The Social Buccaneer," is the title, and the five act play is drawn from Frederic S. Isham's "best seller" of the same title.

China Prepares For Germany

Peking, Aug. 8.—China will declare war on Germany, but will not join the entente allies.

This decision reached a special meeting of the cabinet has been approved by acting president, Feng Kwo Chang. The actual declaration will be delayed pending the replies of the provinces and probably will be made public next week.

Germans here are preparing to leave for Java a Dutch colony.

WIRELESS PLOTTERS

Letter Intercepted at Buenos Aires Reveals System of Teuton Espionage.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 8.—An extensive German spy plot, as a result of which ship sailing and other information has been revealed, was discovered by the foreign office here today.

The miscarriage of a letter meant for the head of the espionage organization led to discovery of the plot. The letter fell into the hands of the foreign office.

An investigation is understood to have revealed extended organization of the espionage system. Numerous suspects are under surveillance of the police today.

No arrests have yet been made, however, owing to doubt as to whether the Argentine laws make infliction of penalties for such offenses possible. Despite this it is believed the government will find some means of suppressing the spies.

Wound by Hoe Kills Man.

Millville, N. J., Aug. 8.—John Murphy, aged 68 years, who was struck on the head by a sharp hoe in an argument with Albert Painter, aged 62, died yesterday at the Millville Hospital. Murphy was overseer of a farm at Bricksboro, four miles south of Millville, and Painter was employed as a farmhand. In his antemortem statement Murphy said that while arguing with his employee regarding the use of a farming implement Painter struck him a terrific blow and left him in a semi-conscious condition.

Painter was arrested and held under $5000 bail to await the result of the aged man's injuries. He now is being sought by the police, and will be arrested and formally charged with murder by Prosecutor Miller and held without bail. Painter claimed that he struck the blow in self-defense.

Policeman Killed

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 8.—Five hundred members of the Ninth Illinois Infantry were on strike duty here today following the death last night of Policeman Noah Roll, who was hit by bullets fired from a street car manned by non-union men.

Five men including the crew of the car from which the shots were fired are under arrest.

LAMBERT KILLS SELF

Son of Former Alexandrian Shoots Himself in Residence in St. Louis Yesterday Morning.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 8.—Jordan Wheat Lambert, member of one of the wealthiest families of St. Louis, shot and killed himself in his apartments yesterday. He was known as an amateur sportsman and belonged to many athletic clubs of the country. He was 43 years old.

Lambert was vice-president of the Lambert Pharmacal Company and a brother of Albert Bond Lambert, aviator and aeronaut.

Relatives of Jordan W. Lambert told the St. Louis police last night they were sure the wealthy manufacturer, found mortally wounded in his apartment early yesterday, committed suicide, but detectives did not lessen their efforts to learn the identity of a woman whose telephone call to the Lambert residence, saying she feared "something had happened," resulted in the discovery of the wounded and unconscious man. They refused to say what they expected to learn from her.

In Lambert's room was found a letter from his wife, who is now in the East, in which she indicated she was surprised that Lambert wanted a divorce, but that she was willing for him to have his freedom. The last sentence read: "'Let me add, in a friendly spirit, that perhaps if you took more time before considering another marriage you might be less apt to make a grave mistake." She was Lambert's second wife, he having been divorced from his first wife.

From another letter, which was undated, the signature had been torn. It was in a woman's handwriting and one paragraph read: "As long as a man is infatuated with a woman he does not fear the eye of the multitude nor the tongue of gossip nor anything that is in heaven or earth, save that he may get her."

The last two words were heavily underscored.

Lambert's relatives said he had been suffering from nervous trouble brought about by overwork. To his illness they attribute his suicide.

It was shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning when a woman telephoned the Lambert residence, and asked the maid to see if he was "all right."

When the maid said she did not wish to go to his room, the woman said:

"Oh, please do. He telephoned me he was very sick and did not believed he could live through it. Won't you go in and see how sick he is?"

Lambert was found lying in a pool of blood, a pistol by his side. The maid rashed back to the telephone.

"Come quick!" she cried. "Something has happened!"

There was no response, but the maid asserts that she heard the click of the receiver being hung up.

Late yesterday it was learned that Lambert called up a woman from a downtown hotel about 7 o'clock Monday evening and that after the conversation he seemed excited.

One of the employes in the hotel's Turkish bathrooms, where Lambert remained until about 11 o'clock, said Lambert had complained to him of being nervous from the heat and lack of sleep.

Wife Notified.

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 8.—News of the death of Jordan Wheat Lambert was conveyed to his wife, who with her six months' old baby is visiting in Hinesburg, near here. Her physician said last night that she was in a highly nervous condition and would not be permitted to see any callers.

Mrs. Lambert came to Vermont on May 4, and since then she has been staying with relatives in this vicinity. In reply to a question put to her through her physician last night she denied that there was any separation between her husband and herself.

It was wihle Mr. Lambert was taking a special course several years ago at the University of Vermont that he met his present wife, who was then Miss Bernice Kendall. She was a nurse and was engaged to care for the first Mrs. Lambert, later accompanying the family when they went to Europe on account of Mrs. Lambert's health.

Some time later on their return to St. Louis Lambert and his first wife were divorced, and two years ago he married Miss Kendall.

Jordan Wheat Lambert, millionaire member of the Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, was a son of Jordan Wheat Lambert, a native of Alexandria, who was a son of the late B. H. Lambert. The late J. W. Lambert, Sr., moved to St. Louis about 21 years ago where he amassed a fortune in the manufacture of a popular antiseptic.

The son has visited relatives in Alexandria semi-occasionally. His nearest relatives here are cousins and an aunt.

EXAMINE SEVENTY-FIVE

Physicians Pass Upon The Second Allotment of Drafted Men at the City Hall Today.

Physical examinations were given to seventy-five more men, called by the selective draft, by the medical examining board of physicians in the city council chamber at the City Hall up to noon today. The work was proceeded with somewhat faster today than yesterday although the doctors were just as careful in holding up to the prescribed rules laid down by the war Department in the rigid examination required.

A total of seventy-eight were examined yesterday. Eyesight troubles were among the defects encountered in two or three cases. These will call for the service of a regular optician, it is said, in order to get satisfactory decisions to all concerned.

According to a statement given out by Dr. E. A. Gorman, it is thought that at least eighty-five per cent of the men so far examined will pass and be accepted so far as the physical examination is concerned. How many will file claims for exemption and be discharged is altogether another question and can only be determined by the evidence submitted to the board. So far it is reported that from seevnty-five to ninety per cent will ask for exemption for various reasons.

The last 102 men called will be examined tomorrow as per schedule heretofore published.

WHY UNITED STATES IS AT WAR

Prizes to be Offered to Virginia Teachers in a State Contest.

The sum of $300 has been placed at the disposal of the National Board for Historical Service, to be expended in prizes to the public school teachers of the State of Virginia for the best essays on the subject: "Why the United States is at War. "It is intended that the treatment should be primarily historical in character, bringing out those facts of recent or more remote history which seem to have a bearing on the question.

It is proposed to offer the prizes as follows: Group A. for teachers in public high schools: A first prize of $75; a second prize of $30; a third prize of $20; a fourth prize of $15; a fifth prize of $10.

Group B for teachers in public elementary schools: A first prize of $75; a second prize of $25; five third prizes of $10 each.

Essays submitted in competition for these prizes should observe the following conditions::

Typing is not required but essays must be legibly written on sheets securely fastened together, on one side of the sheet only. Essays must not exceed three thousand words in length.

All essays should be addressed to Waldo G. Leland, Secretary, National Board for Historical Service, 1133 Woodward Building, Washington, D. C. Essays should not be signed, but each essay should be accompanied by a slip, containing the name, address, and teaching position of the writer. The names of writers will not be communicated to the committees of award until after their awards have been made.

Essays must be received in Washington not later than 6 p. m. on Thursday, November 15, 1917. The prizes will be awarded as soon thereafter as practicable.

May Change Attitude

Rome, Aug. 8.—Many Italian newspapers and some authorities on Vatican affairs continue to affirm that Cardinal Gasparri, the Papal secretary of state, has resigned. The retirement of the secretary, it is asserted, will permit the inauguration of a new policy by the Vatican toward Germany.

GUBERNATORIAL NOMINEE.

From present indications Westmoreland Davis, of Loudoun county, was nominated for Governor of Virginia in the primary election yesterday. While we preferred J. Taylor Ellyson and gave our reasons on several occasions, as good democrats we bow to the will of the majority and wish Mr. Davis success after he shall have been inaugurated as chief executive of the state.

But while Mr. Ellyson failed of election, he poses noble in defeat. His is by no means the only case in history where capable men—men who have honestly earned their spurs in the interests of a nation or political party—have been sidetracked by the members of their respective organizations.

We will not go back into ancient history to show this, but will refer to cases of illustrious men in our day who were knifed by people from whom we should have expected better things. Wade Hampton delivered South Carolina from carpetbaggers, adventurers, bayonets and negro rule, playing a part in the Palmetto State similar to that of Mr. Ellyson in the tribulations through which Virginia passed at times during the past half century. Both fought in the Confederate army. The distinguished South Carolinian had his political enemies and J. Taylor Ellyson has his.

Senator Joe Blackburn, of Kentucky, had his adversaries who a few years ago forced him out of the United States Senate, thereby casting into an eclipse one of the brightest minds that ever represented that state.

A majority of the people of Kansas carrying populistic banners relegated John J. Ingalls to private life and placed one Peffer in the United States Senate in his stead.

Roscoe Conkling was virtually set aside by the President he helped to elect and was compelled to resign his seat in the United States Senate and retire to private life.

The Gazette has heretofore said about all that could be said in regard to the claims of J. Taylor Ellyson upon the democratic party of the Old Dominion and there is no necessity for recapitulating them. His history is well-known to the great mass of voters, and his labors in behalf of his party will not be forgotten by appreciative people of Virginia, though they may be temporarily in the minority.

In 1844, when it became definitely known that James K. Polk had been elected President of the United States and that Henry Clay, the idol of so many Americans, had gone down in defeat, the then editor of the Alexandria Gazette, who was an earnest supporter of Clay, appropriated the following from Doctor Samuel Johnson, who wrote the lines on the death of Mr. Pelham:

Let others hail the rising sun,
I bow to that whose course is run.

We repeat it in the case of Mr. Ellyson, who has performed his duty to his party and state.

Horace Greeley in his autobiography says: "Fame is a vapor; popularity an accident; riches take wings; the only earthly certainty is oblivion; no man can foresee what a day will bring forth, while those who cheer today will often curse tomorrow."

Mr. Greeley was not the only man who realized these truths.

THE FOOD PROBLEM

With the most determined and desperate struggle of the war raging on the western front, the question of peace clearly occupies the foremost place in the minds of the German and Austrian people and of those who represent them. What both the German and Austrian governments dread more than the French and British armies is another winter of hardship and short rations. The food outlook is not encouraging for the Central Powers, and the realization of the necessity of preparing themselves for another period of greater self-denial is indicated by the announcement that a new German "food dictator" has been appointed in the person of Herr von Waldow, that the system of food distribution is about to be reorganized, and that a conference of German and Austro-Hungarian representatives is to be held at Vienna to discuss the division of the Roumanian crops. Even with the additions which will come to their larders from this source there will not be enough food to support life in the two empires properly, and the prospects are rendered still darker by the certainty that our embargo on exports to Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark will probably cut down still further the total of available food supplies.

There seems very little doubt that the food shortage is more critical than in any previous year, and that both the German and Austrian governments look forward with apprehension to the task of forcing their hungry populations to endure another winter of great privation. They know the moral as well as the physical effect of such a strain as this is cumulative, and that in a few months the popular patience will be close to the break point.

When people have gone with half-filled stomachs for several years they necessarily lose a good deal of their fighting vim, and doubts begin to creep into their minds as to the profitableness of war. An empty German or Austrian belly will be no respecter of Kaiser or Emperor during the searching cold of next December, January and February, especially when it is obvious that Kaiser and Emperor are making a losing fight.

The Baltimore Sun, after drawing the above picture, suggests that the Kaiser's government and the government of his Austrian ally are faced by something which cannot be argued with, and if they cannot make good on the food issue the last months of this year and the early months of 1918 threaten a collapse from within. That, in all probability, is the explanation of the persistent peace talk that emanates from Berlin and Vienna, of the repeated suggestions that come from their spokesmen. Autocracy dies hard and imperial pride hates to throw up the sponge, so that neither nation has yet been able to bring itself to make direct and frank overtures for peace.

ANNIVERSARY OF DISASTER

The most serious disaster which ever occurred on the Potomac river took place forty-four years ago today, when the river steamer Wawasett was burned near Maryland Point, about fifty miles south of this city. About one hundred persons lost their lives in this disaster.

The ill-fated steamer left this port for river landings early on Friday morning, August 8, 1873, with a large complement of passengers, most of whom were negroes. While the steamer was approaching Chatterton fire, which had broken, out amidship, was found to be raging. The steamer was headed for the Virginia flats, which she seen reached, and went aground. Passengers and members of the crew who happened to be forward of the engine room were enabled to get overboard into shallow water, but those abaft of the paddle boxes were cut off, and most of them were drowned, especially the women and children, as the stern of the burning steamer was in deep water.

The survivors were brought to this port by the steamers Lady of the Lake, of the Norfolk line, and the Georgeanna, of the Baltimore line. The description of their experience were thrilling.

Five years later the steamer Express of the Baltimore line was lost in Chesapeake Bay a short distance north of Point Lookout during a severe storm. Sixteen or seventeen persons were lost on that occasion.

About the time the Wawasett was burned the boilers of an excursion steamer exploded while she was at her wharf in New York. About one hundred and fifty persons were killed in this disaster. These accidents caused the steamboat inspectors to become more exacting, and it was ordered that in future all officers of steamboats should wear uniforms with the positions they might hold displayed in letters upon their caps.

THE GERMAN SHAKEUP

(Baltimore American).

In the German shakeup there are discernible no signs of comfort for the Allies. There are no signs of hope for the Germans who have been ardently hoping for a breakdown of the power of the bureaucrats in the government. The new ministers and other high civil officers are of the Michaelis stripe. And they represent nothing for progressive opinion in Germany.

Germany has learned nothing since the war started. It is still dragging the fringes of medievalism across Europe. It is still the unreconstructed Germany of 1870. And the task of the Allies remains the supreme and the sure task of breaking the backbone of this unholy power in modern civilization.

Predatory principle has to give way to democratic opportunity. And the entire force of the Allied nations will be brought to bear to effect this end. There is no shadow of uncertainty in the United States. It is moving calmly and swiftly forward upon its appointed destiny to crush to small dust the arrogant and brutish government that is responsible for the war because it nourished dreams of world domination that were as fantastic as they were criminal.

MILITARISTS STILL RULE

Branded As Bad Legacy From Bethmann-Hollweg Administration—Discredited U-Boat Campaign.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—Germany's press was decidedly lukewarm yesterday in its welcome to the new occupants of the ministerial bench, and characterizes the 14 newcomers to executive and minor posts as a Cabinet constituted of officials whose appointment does not betray a change in system.

"It cannot be denied that the events occurring in our internal politics lack historic dimensions, as compared with our present military achievements," says the Tageblatt. "The great German nation, which is the only 'kultur' people in the world, exercise neither direct nor indirect influence in the selection of its servants."

The National Liberal Boersen Zeitung in its comment says:

"Is the result which we are now permitted to contemplate that which we and, with us, many others, have looked forward to? The question may promptly be answered in the negative. We have again a Simon-pure ministry of officials."

The Vossische Zeitung discusses the retention of Dr. Helfferich at length, branding him as a bad legacy from the Bethmann-Hollweg administration as an inspiration for a pro-English current in German foreign policy, and further charges him with having delayed and then discredited the U-boat campaign.

"We cannot overlook the fact," says the newspaper, "that in Dr. Helfferich not only has a member of the old system been incorporated in the new Government which was to foreshadow a change in method, but, above all, one of the strongest supports of the old system, and that in a leading official capacity. Dr. Helfferich's ambition is to exercise an influence upon foreign politics, and in this he has occasionally changed the outward method of his foreign policy. He at no time has substituted for it a conscious determination to achieve a firm Continental understanding as opposed to the aggressive world-power policy of England and the United States. Personally the new Foreign Secretary is suited to yield Dr. Helfferich's views of world politics still greater representation in the new Government."

TO HAVE GREATEST SHIPS

Powerful Merchant Marine Planned by Shipping Board After War.

America will have a merchant marine second only to Great Britain, if to any, when the war is over, according to information obtained from the Shipping Board yesterday. The greatest passenger and freight vessels of the world will operate under the Stars and Stripes.

In addition to the large number of German interned ships which were taken over by the government and are now practically all ready for service, the United States will have:

Fourteen Austrian steamships; five German ships interned in Cuba; two German vessels tied up at docks in the Virgin Isles when the Danish West Indies possessions were bought by this country, and every tanker and merchant ship now on the ways in this country.

Approximately eighty-five large and small German ships that were interned in this country were taken possession of by the United States at the outset of the war. Many of them were badly damaged; but they are all now in a state of serviceability equal to that at the beginning of the war.

In addition to these the government has announced its intention of taking over all the merchant and freight vessels now building. It is said that within the next two months more than 4,000,000 tons of additional shipping will come into the hands of the government.

CASE OF MRS. DE SAULLES

Envoys Not to Assist in Defense of Heiress.

Although Major Alfredo Ewing, military attache at the Chilean embassy, left Washington yesterday for New York, it was emphatically stated that his visit to the metropolis had no connection with the defense of Mrs. Bianca de Saulles.

Senor Don Santiago Aldunate, ported to have gone to New York to confer with Mrs. De Saulles' attorney, was said by embassy attaches to be in Atlantic City, where he went a week ago for a vacation.

Ambassador Aldunate is expected to return to Washington. It was stated at the embassy that his return to Washington was not in connection with the murder case, but that Mrs. De Saulles' attorney might come here to talk with the diplomat.

Embassy attaches were most anxious that it be made entirely plain that the diplomatic agents of the Chilean Government were not concerned about the De Saulles case in any way.

SEPARATE CAMP FOR NEGROES.

Those Taken in Draft Will Not Go to Anniston.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The negro National Guardsmen of Washington will not be sent to Anniston, Ala., to train with the white guardsmen from the District, Maryland and Virginia, according to an announcement yesterday by War Department officials.

Fears were expressed that should the negro soldiers be sent to the same training camp with the white soldiers race clashes may result. A number of the Southern cities also objected to the northern negro soldiers being trained within their environments.

MONEY GOING TO GERMANY

Thousand of Dollars From Cleveland Sent Through Switzerland.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 8.—Federal agents yesterday were investigating reports that thousands of dollars in money is being sent monthly from Cleveland to Germany through the neutral Swiss Government.

Investigation, it is said, has revealed that scores of Germans and persons of German extraction are sending funds to Germany, ostensibly to relatives. Federal officials want to learn whether any of this money is reaching the German Government.

May be Shifted to Navy Yards.

Secretary Daniels has telegraphed all shipyards with contracts for repair of former German ships, asking them how the strikes affect the completion of repairs on these vessels.

Unless assurance is given that the work can be taken up immediately where it was interrupted by strikes, the Secretary said he would cancel the contracts, and move as many of the ships as possible to Government navy yards for completion of repairs.

Tablet to Casement

Berlin, Aug. 8.—According to the Lokal Anzeiger a tablet, commemorating the putting to death of Sir Roger Casement, was unveiled on the shore, of Lake Anmer, near Rederau, in Bavaria, on August 3.

The tablet is under a window of a hotel where Casement lived for some time.

London, Aug. 8.—The anniversary of Sir Casement's death was celebrated in Tralee on Sunday by a procession to McKenna's fort, where he was arrested on landing from a German submarine. The demonstration was a sort of pilgrimage to the spot. Thousands of men and women wearing Sinn Fein colors assembled at Tarlee, coming from all parts of the country.

J. M. Minnich, 78 years old, for 45 years postmaster and merchant at Dale Enterprise, Rockingham county, died Sunday. He is said to have been one of the oldest postmasters in the United States in the point of continuous service. He enlisted the first week of the Civil War and was with Lee at the surrender at Appomattox.

NO TRENCHES FOR ONE YEAR

Draft Army Is Safe For Twelve Months, it Appears.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The selective army of 687,000 men will not be in cantonments until the last of October. This was officially announced yesterday by an officer in the Provost Marshal's office, who explained that insurmountable difficulties made it impossible to get the entire army in training before that time.

The machinery of drafting will be completed by the last of August and if the War Department should call upon the Provost Marshal's office for the army it would be ready to be moved from all parts of the country to the several contonments.

In the first week in September Provost Marshal Crowder will notify the Secretary of War that the drafted army is subject to call. It is the purpose of the War Department to then call about 20 per cent. of the number from their homes to the respective cantonments. It is estimated that not more than 100,000 or 150,000 men can be taken care of in the first week of September and fully six weeks will expire after that time before the cantonments are completely organized and the quartermaster's office is ready to supply the needs of this vast army of men called from civil life.

According to plans, about 100,000 men will be sent to the cantonments to organize them and prepare for the reception of the others. The railroads have notified the government that they can not transport that great number of men to cantonments in one day. This is one of the physical difficulties which force the government to abandon its plans of calling the army into active being in one day throughout the nation.

The accoutrement of the new civilian army is the biggest problem any government has ever undertaken. These men, coming from civil life, must be fitted head to foot with military clothes and ammunition and arms. When the National Guard was federalized there was nothing that need be supplied.

Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the Appropriation Committee, today said that the Quartermaster's office was unable to obtain sufficient supplies for the selective army and that, therefore, not more than 150,000 would go into camp life in September and the rest of the force would not see camp life for months after.

SMASH COUNTER DRIVE

French Beat Back Desperate Attacks of German Crown Prince.

London, Aug. 8.—Twice yesterday did the Crown Prince suffer reverses at the hands of the French.

Smashing attacks by his forces, evidently with the intention of relieving the pressure against the Teutonic lines on the Flanders front, were launched in the Verdun sector. Violent bombardment of the French lines on the left bank of the Meuse River preceded the German attacks. The French, however, were prepared.

With their machine guns in superb positions they poured a deadly fire on the invaders. The German forces were forced to retire to their trenches. Heavy losses were inflicted on them, according to the French report.

The other reverse to the Crown Prince came on the Champagne front. In three places the French penetrated the German positions. After inflicting losses on the enemy the French raiders returned to their own lines, bringing back some prisoners.

The artillery duel on the Flanders front continues. With the ground rapidly drying up from the severe storms of last week which halted the allies' advance, infantry attacks on a large scale are looked for before the week ends.

The Germans persist in desperate but futile attempts to retake from the British, lost positions east and southeast of Ypres, chiefly at Hollebeke and Westhoek.

German activity is also reported against the positions held by the Belgians near Dixmude and in the region east of Ramscapelle.

From this it is believed that the Belgians had probably been concentrated on a front of ten miles south of Dixmude, which the Belgians formerly defended.

WOMAN'S BODY IN QUICKLIME

Wisconsin Farmer Tenant of Mrs. Cora Miller Missing.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 8.—The discovery of the body of Mrs. Cora Miller, buried in quicklime in the cellar of Edwin Hauge, a farmer of La Cross county, today cleared up the mystery of the disappearance of the woman and resulted in the issuance of a warrant for Hauge, who has not been seen since early in July.

Mrs. Miller, upon whose farm Hauge lived, had been missing since February. Some months after her disappearance Hiram Lovejoy, a farmer, received a letter intimating the woman had eloped.

According to the police, the letter was written by Hauge. It is the theory of the officers that Mrs. Miller who owned several farms, had gone to collect rent and in a quarrel had been struck down with a hammer which was found near the body. Hauge is 32 years old and has a wife and child. Mrs. Miller was a former school teacher. Her mother, Mrs. C. B. Lousborough, lives in Elyria, Ohio.

CONDITIONS IN OKLAHOMA

Governor Expresses Confidence That Majority of Residents are Willing to do Service.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 8.—Confidence that a majority of the residents of Central Oklahoma are loyal to the United States and willing to do military service despite organized resistance to the draft on the part of a few was expressed last night by Governor Williams, in commenting on the fact that normal conditions virtually have been restored in the counties where three men have been killed in the efforts of posses to quell draft opposition.

Fifty more draft resisters were arrested yesterday, including two alleged leaders, "Doc" Caleb and a man named Fink. It was announced that Roy Crane, of Oak Grove, and John Barnhardt, of Wewoka, said to be organizers of the "Working Class Union," were two of the men for whom the government will ask the death penalty on charges of treason. The rank and file of the men involved in the disturbance, most of them of the tenant farmer class, likely will have to face the lesser indictment of conspiracy to evade the draft. About 300 men have been taken into custody.

The wounding of William McEwen, deputy sheriff, while guarding a railroad bridge, and the capture of John Harjo, notorious Snake leader of the Indian Working Class Union of Seminole County, and the confession of Mat Harris that he ordered the burning of a bridge near Francis, were late developments of the night.

The home of Che Perney Fixico, known as "Snake," the young Seminole who captured "Bud" Manealey in woman's clothing, near Sasakawa Saturday, was reported to have been burned early yesterday.

TRY TO BRIBE OFFICIALS

Offers to Exemptors Bring Possibility of Two Year Term

New York, Aug. 8.—Many attempts to bribe exemption board officials in this city have been made by young men anxious to escape army service. They now face criminal prosecution.

Announcement was made yesterday by Deputy Attorney General Roscoe Conkling, who is in charge of the draft work here, that twelve such cases already have been reported to him.

The men under examination offered from $20 to $300 to the physicians or lay members of the board on condition they were rejected.

The deputy attorney general said that whever the case was one for prosecution, either a charge of conspiracy or an attempt to bribe a public officer would be made and the men turned over to the Federal attorney of the district in which the crime was committed. The punishment on conviction for conspiracy is two years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Insure the home NOW—don't delay another day. This is the season in which most fires occur. Insuring through this Agency means ABSOLUTE PROTECTION at regular rates.

SWISS RESIST DEMAND

Unwilling to Exchange Gold for Coal With Germans.

Confirmation has reached the State Department of the report that Germany has demanded a loan in gold from Switzerland in return for coal. In official circles here this is taken as emphasis to the stories of financial difficulties in which Germany finds herself at present.

Germany is in sad need of gold to meet the obligations which she has incurred with those neutrals with whom she can trade, for German paper money is no longer in favor and the value of the German mark is depreciating almost to the vanishing point.

Switzerland is resisting the demand and if it is pressed she is in far better shape than Holland or the Scandinavian countries to meet either military or economic aggression from Germany.

Under present conditions Switzerland is dependent upon Germany for her coal, but it is believed that the allies may be able to meet her needs.

"COMMAND OF DEATH"

Elihu Root Loud in Praise of Russian Women Soldiers.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—"I never saw a finer lot of soldiers than those Russian women who joined the army to fight their country's battles," said Elihu Root, head of the commission which recently returned from Russia, and who arrived here today.

"I saw the 'Command of Death' march away from Petrograd. It was one of the most inspiring sights I have ever seen to see those women, some of them slender girls, with their hair cropped an dtheir ugly uniforms, go away to do the work of men. They marched as befitted their name, for they knew no fear.

"It would not surprise me if, as time goes on, American women did the same thing. American women are just as capable and noble as those of Russia. And when the call comes, and I would not be surprised if it should, we too will see women giving their blood on the field of battle.

"Let the men of Russia, and of America too, look to these heroic women fighters of Russia and they will hang their heads in shame to think that women had to spur them on in this way.

"Russian women have surely earned a right to a voice in political affairs and not only have they earned that right, but the welfare of the new Russia depends on their exercising it."

Mr. Root said that Russia is not beaten and will win in the end.

Asked about Kerensky he said:

"He is a great man. It is my conviction that he will bear the same relation to Russia that Napoleon did to France, and that Washington bore to this country and the men in his cabinet are likewise able and efficient."

PEANUTS PAYING CROP

Georgia Farmer Tried Experiment and is Making Big Money.

"Cotton is not the big crop in at least one big estate in Georgia this year," remarked a man who knows of what happened in that state last year having a relative who told him of the facts. "For years and years the owner had resorted to cotton as him money crop, and last year he determined to raise peanuts. He made all his arrangements, planted a big acreage and said that he expected to get not less than 2,500 bushels, which would bring him a fair income on the investment. He said he expected to get four cents a pound for them. When he harvested the crop he found that he had 8,000 bushels and he got twelve cents a pound for them. That is what the product yielded. He had three times the yield expected and three times the price estimated. The result is that this year peanuts will be raised again and the yield will be much heavier. The example of this one Georgia man will be followed by others, and Georgia may become the home of the peanut."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The House of Representatives yesterday agree dthat it would not consider the Sheppard amendment until December, even though the Senate had accepted it.

President Wilson is contemplating the establishment of an internal embargo on the use of gasoline for pleasure automobiles, because of the serious shortage of gasoline and the immense needs of the army and navy during the course of the war, according to a report current today.

The health of Alexander K. Kerensky, Russia's man of the hour, is a matter of grave concern to his friends and associates. Premier Kerensky's health was one too good when he took office, and the strain since has been not only constant, but probably heavier than any other statesman's in the world today. Illustrative of his weakness, it is stated that even during the first weeks of the revolution, every public speech he made was followed by a period of faintness. His friends say that only his tremendous will power and nervous energy have kept him going so long.

"We can place the greatest confidence in the Russian people and their new government." This was the statement of Elihu Root, head of the American commision, on the commission's arrival in Chicago on its way to Washington to report its findings to President Wilson. "There is no more disturbance in all of Russia than there is in the United States," he continued. "If all the telegraphic reports of the race riots, strikes and other disturbances in the United States were concentrated and sent over to Russia, the people there would get an alarming view of the situation. I never saw a finer lot of soldiers than those Russian women who joined the army to fight their country's battles," he continued.

The unwritten law will be pleaded by Mrs. John Popp, who shot and killed Mis Roxie Brock, a Southern beauty yesterday at Pineville, Ky. Unable longer to bear stories in which the names of her husband and Miss Brock were connected, Mrs. Pope left her two small children with a neighbor and calmly walked to the Brock mansion, where she called the girl onto the veranda and shot her.

The Rev. John Scandrett, Methodist Episcopal minister of Lafayette, N. J., was drowned in Deer Pond, near Newton, N. J., yesterday, after he had rescued two young women members of his congregation, who had been thrown into the water when their boat overturned.

Alleged ministers of the gospel are undertaking to evade the national "bone dry" law. According to information received in Memphis, Tenn., several persons posing as ministers are making trips to St. Louis and other cities where liquor is sold. They return with suitcases full of half-pints, which they sell at $1 each. The law permits ministers to import alcoholic liquors for sacramental purposes. Any one other than a minister caught bringing liquor into a dry State is subject to fine and imprisonment.

The British admiralty learns that a German submarine on Monday attacked a Spanish fishing boat in the neighborhood of Bilboa, Spain, within Spanish territorial waters. Two of the crew were severely wounded.

Police Commissioner Wood of New York received a letter from Secretary of War Baker expressing the opinion that members of the police and fire departments of New York are not exempt from the operations of the selective draft act.

A record price for hogs was hung up at the Union stockyards at Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday when $17 was quoted for the best grades. The best previous price was $14 during civil war days.

King George of England has sent the following message to King Albert of Belgium: "I desire to express my unshaken confidence in the final restoration of Belgium to a legitimate position among the free nations of Europe."

Rioting was renewed last night in Springfield, Ill., when the street car company ordered a resumption of night service after ten days discontinuance because of a strike of motormen and conductors. Policeman Noah Roll was shot and probably fatally wounded, and Governor Frank O. Lowden immediately ordered out 500 national guardsmen to patrol the city.

Dutch newspapers print in a parallel column with an account of the murder of the crew of the British steamship Belgian Prince, a Berlin telegram giving the following extract from a pastoral letter read in all the Protestant churches of Berlin last Sunday. "We will comport ourselves as Christians toward our enemies and conduct the war in the future as in the past, with humanity and chivalry." The pastoral letter was read at a service which Emperor William and the German Empress attended at the Cathedral.

According to word received in Paris bitter feeling is developing in Austria against Germany owing to the German government's failure to clearly define its position in regard to Belgium. Speaking at a mass meeting at Vienna, Dr. Ilboven said: "While Count Czernin advises not to take advantage of the Russian defeat Kaiser Wilhelm orders salvos to celebrate the victory. Why doesn't Austria protest? Austria has many enemies in Vienna as well as in Potsdam."

Apache Indians in the Sierra Anchas Mountains, 50 miles northwest of Globe, are on the warpath and the two largest abestos mines in the district have suspended operations. The manager of one of the mines informed Sheriff Tom Armer that leaders of the uprising have called out all Indian mine workers and that they were completely beyond control.

Liberia, the negro republic on the west of Africa, has declared war on Germany. The declaration of war now gives an opportunity to intern German merchants and other spies who have been accused of unusual activities.

HAWAII TO USE GERMANS

Will Make Interned Men Cultivate Sugar Plantations.

Germans interned at Honolulu will be put to work on sugar plantations, according to a statement by United States Marshal Jerome Smiddy.

"Men are badly needed on plantations at Kipahula, on the island of Maui, and it was decided to supply labor from the internment camp at the ordinary wage," said Smiddy.

The law provides that prisoners of war and interned civilians of an enemy nation may be forced to work under certain conditions.

Max Weber, a German timekeeper, on a plantation on the island of Maui, has been arrested by Federal authorities in Hilo, as a suspect in a plot to destroy dairy herds by scattering anthrax germs broadcast.

DIZZY SPELLS

Relieved After Taking Two Bottles Of Cardui, Says Tennessee Lady.

Whitwell, Tenn.—Mrs. G. P. Cartwright, of this place, writes: "About four years ago the dizzy spells got so bad that when I would start to walk I would just pretty near fall. I wasn't past doing my work, but was very much run-down.

I told my husband I thought Cardui would help me, as a lady who lived next door to me had taken a great deal, and told me to try it. This was when we were living in Kentucky.

My husband got me a bottle and I took it according to directions. It helped me so much that he went back and got me another bottle. I got a whole lot better and just quit taking it. I got over the dizzy spells...I took no other medicine at that time nor since for this trouble. No, I've never regretted taking Cardui.

I felt just fine when I finished the second bottle."

Purely vegetable, mild and gentle in its action, Cardui, the woman's tonic, may be the very medicine you need. If you suffer from symptoms of female troubles, give Cardui a trial. All druggists. NC-129

Take No Chances in Tire Buying

There is risk in a chance—but not when you buy a tire of known quality—of known endurance.

United States Tires—all five of them, 'Royal Cord,' 'Nobby,' 'Chain,' 'Usco,' 'Plain,'

—are tires of known, demonstrated and proved service and endurance.

—the make of tires that costs less per mile today than any other make of tire—now or ever.

Proof—the consistent and persistent year-by-year, month-by-month sales increases of United States Tires.

Your experience, too, will prove their quality.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Reports from Pulaski have reached Roanoke to the effect that Henry Sneed was shot and killed Sunday night by a member of the Virginia National Guard, named Frank Akers, and that Akers was dangerously wounded. It is stated that the trouble arose over Sneed's objection to Akers paying attention to his sister. Sneed, it is stated forbade Akers going further in her company, whereupon a row ensued, during which stones were thrown. Akers is reported to have obtained a shotgun and fired upon Sneed, at which the latter brought a pistol into play, wounding his assailant. Before falling, Akers is reported to have reloaded his gun and fired the shot that killed Sneed.

Playing with a shotgun Monday, Carlin Tracy, 6 years old, son of Everett Tracy, near Purcellville, this town, shot and killed Bois Tracy, his 18-months-old sister. The father was away and Mrs. Tracy had just told the child to put down the gun. As she turned around the gun was accidentally discharged the load tearing off half of the little girls head.

Northwestern Virginia is threatened with a virulent epidemic of infantile paralysis, State health authorities announce. With 43 cases reported within the past ten days in the six contiguous counties of Rockingham, Rappahannock, Page, Albemarle, Green and Augusta, the outbreak was believed to be spreading rapidly. The death percentage is characterized as "high." The affected section is noted as a tourists' resort. Luray Caverns are in Page county.

Special efforts are being made by the Washington police to locate, or get some trace of Mrs. Genevieve Kidwell, 40 years old, who left her home at Front Royal, in the Shenandoah Valley, August 3, last, accompanied by her nine-year-old daughter, having purcahsed a ticket for Washington. It is learned that Mrs. Kidwell made a brief visit to a relative in Ballston, Alexandria county, after arriving in Washington August 4, but remained there only a short time. Since then nothing has been heard from the woman and her daughted. Mrs. Kidwell is the wife of John Kidwell, a decorator, of Front Royal.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Alexandria.

Scores of Alexandria people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

William L. Nalls, 534 S. Patrick St., Alexandria, says: "My back ached all the time and the pains through my loins were so severe that I thought they would kill me. My kidneys were congested and the kidney secretions caused me much annoyance. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Summer's Drug Store. I was relieved of that misery in my back after I had taken a few doses. Since using three boxes of Doan's my kidneys have been in good condition and my back hasn't caused me any trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Nalls had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
